Lecture by Prof. Himanshu Prabha Ray , 11th April , 2023

Heritage History Association of Janki Devi Memorial College organized a Distinguished Speaker Series under the aegis of IQAC. The speaker invited was Professor Himanshu Prabha Ray, Member of Board of Governors, Oxford Centre for Hindu Studies, Oxford. The topic of the lecture was "The Discovery and Dispersal of Relics: The Modern History of Buddhism". The President of the association, Maanya commenced the lecture by welcoming the faculty and the guests, followed by an introductory speech by Prof Manisha Sharma, the TIC, briefly introducing Prof. Ray and presenting the planter and a memento.

Professor Ray, in the very intellectually stimulating talk, noted that Buddhist history is divided into 2 periods- the colonial period and the era of the 19th/20th century. She observed that most of the textual evidence available are from eras after Buddha's death. She also informed the students of the availability of Relics which are remains of the mortal body of the Buddha and how these relics changed in nature over time. One of the most surprising elements of the lecture was the involvement of The United States of America in unearthing the evidence and their zeal in understanding Buddhism. The house opened for and the students and Faculty also interacted with speaker. Dr. Tara Sheemar offered a vote of thanks to Prof Ray.

Lecture by Prof. Syed Ali Nadeem Rezavi , 15th April, 2023

Heritage, Association of the History Department organised a lecture by Prof. Nadeem Rezavi along with the Heritage Club, under the Distinguished speaker series. Prof. Manisha S. Agnihotri convenor of the Heritage club introduced the speaker. The lecture titled ‘ Structures as Registers of Shared Heritage’ outlined the many facets of built heritage and its different manifestations. He pointed out how the different architectural buildings built under the rule of Sultanat and Mughals were in fact inspired by temple architecture of the ancient period. He also pointed out that the different monuments built by Mughal rulers were only reflection of their strong political will to legitimise their rule and thus it was not only religious but largely political. Dr. Tara Sheemar opened the house for questions and answers followed by a vote of thanks by her.

Lecture by Prof. Jaya S. Tyagi under Distinguished Speaker Series

November 4th, 2022

On November 4th, Janki Devi Memorial College's Heritage Association of the history department organised the Distinguished Speaker Series Lecture. The speaker invited was Professor Jaya S Tyagi, Department of History, Faculty of Social Sciences, University of Delhi and the topic of discussion was Revisiting 6th Century BCE- Recent Interpretations. The president of the association, Maanya commenced the lecture by welcoming the faculty and the guests, followed by a introductory speech by Prof Manisha Sharma, the TIC, introducing Prof Tyagi. She highlights and praises Prof Tyagi as the knowledgeable and learned person she is. The other guests of honor were Dr Kumkum Srivastava, retired member of History Department, JDMC and Dr Narottam Vinit, Associate Professor, Dyal Singh College. They were welcomed and felicitated as well.

Dr Tyagi, very articulately, introduced us to the time period of the 6th century BCE and how it can be interpreted. She calls attention to the fact that there is a need to study ancient history with intensive efforts to remain careful and not assume that the things happened the way they are represented in textual representations. The talk demonstrates the perspective towards the 6th century and the fact that the narratives could well be fabricated.

The students were enthralled by her articulate speech and very interested in the topic. Prof Akanksha ended the lecture by expressing gratitude to Prof Tyagi for the intellectually stimulating talk and the teachers and volunteers of the department for their support. All in all, the lecture event was a great success.
