Brief Report of the session:

The Sanskrit Department of Janki Devi Memorial College, University of Delhi, conducted a session on Research Guidelines for Fourth-Year Students on 6 November 2025. Dr. Harsh Bala, Teacher-in-Charge (TIC) of the department, along with Dr. Jyoti, Association In-Charge, and Dr. Manisha, faculty member of the Sanskrit Department, were present for the event.

During the session, Dr. Harsh Bala guided the students on the essential components of fourth-year research, including the importance of systematic planning, methodological understanding, and academic discipline. They were advised that selecting a suitable topic, critically reviewing existing literature, adhering to ethical research practices, and presenting findings effectively are key to producing high-quality research that demonstrates their preparedness for advanced academic or professional pursuits.

Dr. Jyoti updated the students on the submission timeline, total marks, and assessment scheme. The participants found the session highly beneficial, particularly for the clarity it provided regarding the schedule and evaluation process.

Janki Devi Memorial College, Counselling committee in collaboration with the Hindi and Sanskrit Department under the aegis of IQAC organized a workshop on “Navigating Stress and Anxiety: Tools for a Healthier Mind” on 10th October 202 from 12.00 pm onwards in room no 17. The new counsellor and psychologist Ms. Himanshi Sahni was introduced to the students by the convenor of the Counselling Committee Prof. Poonam Kanwal.

The workshop “Navigating Stress and Anxiety: Tools for a Healthier Mind” was conducted for the students of the Hindi and Sanskrit Departments to increase awareness of mental health and provide practical ways to manage everyday challenges.

The session introduced students to the concepts of stress and anxiety and helped them understand how these show up in daily life. Through discussion and reflection, participants were able to differentiate between common experiences of pressure, worry, and tension, and learn how these affect both the mind and body.

A key focus of the workshop was on coping. Students were introduced to simple techniques such as grounding, breathing, and muscle relaxation, which they practiced together in a fun and interactive way. These exercises gave them first-hand experience of how quickly the body and mind can calm down with the right tools.

The session also encouraged students to reflect on their own experiences and identify their personal signs of stress and anxiety. Towards the end, participants created a “Coping Kit”, a collection of strategies they could turn to whenever they felt overwhelmed. This included practical ideas for supporting the mind, relaxing the body, creating a soothing environment, and reaching out for support.

By the conclusion of the workshop, students reported feeling more confident in recognizing stress and anxiety and better prepared to handle them. The session helped normalize these experiences while offering clear, accessible strategies to respond to them.

Overall, the workshop was interactive, informative, and empowering, leaving participants with valuable tools to take forward in their everyday lives.

Brief Report:

A seminar on “Feminist Ideas in Contemporary Context and Eco-Feminism” was organized on October 6, 2025, by the Department of Sanskrit in collaboration with the Department of Philosophy at Janki Devi Memorial College, University of Delhi. The key speakers, Dr. Ruplekha Khullar and Prof. Chirashree Ghosh, discussed the intersection of feminism, environment, and social justice. The seminar addressed India’s low environmental performance, the impact of urbanization on health, and issues such as hunger, pollution, and ecological vulnerability, especially among women.

The discussions emphasized the importance of gender mainstreaming and the active involvement of women in agriculture, as well as in land and water management. Constitutional provisions such as Articles 48-A, 51-A(g), and 21 were highlighted for their vital role in ensuring environmental protection and safeguarding the right to life. The seminar concluded by advocating for gender-sensitive environmental governance and sustainable, inclusive development. The session ended with an engaging and thought-provoking discussion.

Lecture on Indian Knowledge Systems

Name of the Organizer - Sanskrit Department (under the aegis of centre for the study of Indian Knowledge Systems)

Date – September 22, 2025

Time – 10A.M.

Venue – Music Room

No. Of faculty - 5

No. Of students - 78

The Sanskrit Department under the aegis of CHETNA: The Spiritual Consciousness Cell of Janki Devi Memorial College organized an enlightening seminar on Indian knowledge system - Bharatiya Gyan Pranali. The event was held on September 22, 2025 at 10A.M. in the Music Room.

The event was graced by Swami Sarvaloka Nanda Ji, senior monk of the Ramakrishna Mission, who delivered an inspiring talk on Bharatiya Gyan Pranali (Indian Knowledge System). In his address, Swamiji explained how India's traditional wisdom, drawn from the Vedas, Upanishads, Yoga, Ayurveda, and other sciences, continues to guide humanity even today.

He made the session interactive by asking students meaningful questions like “What is purity?”, “How can one control emotions?”, and “What are the benefits of doing good?” Through these thought Provoking discussions, he emphasized that true knowledge is not only about intellectual growth but also about inner discipline, moral strength, and compassion.

Swamiji inspired the youth to balance modern education with spiritual values and highlighted that doing good to others ultimately refines one’s own character and brings peace of mind. The event concluded with gratitude to Swamiji, leaving the audience enriched and motivated to practice these ideals in daily life.
