

Program Exit Survey 2023-26 B.A. (H) Sociology III Year

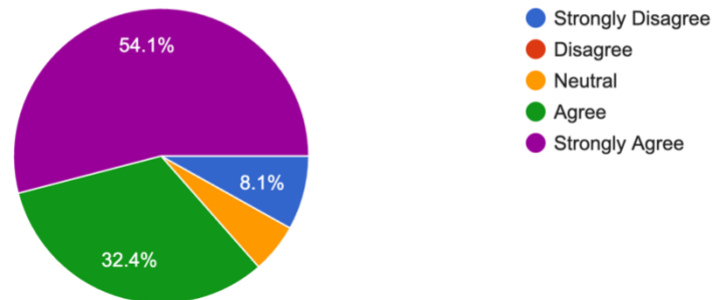

1. The BA (Hons) Sociology program has exposed graduates to multiple theoretical perspectives in Sociology.

37 responses

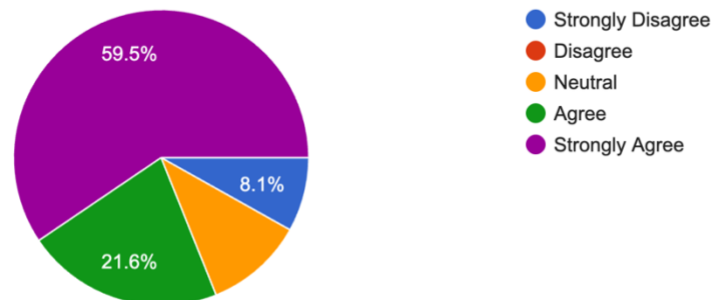

2. The BA (Hons) Sociology program has enabled the graduate to learn that knowledge is socially constructed.

37 responses

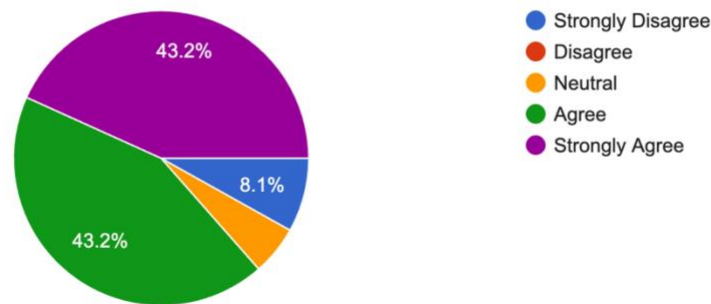

3. The BA (Hons) Sociology program has enabled the graduate to recognise the universal significance of social institutions.

37 responses

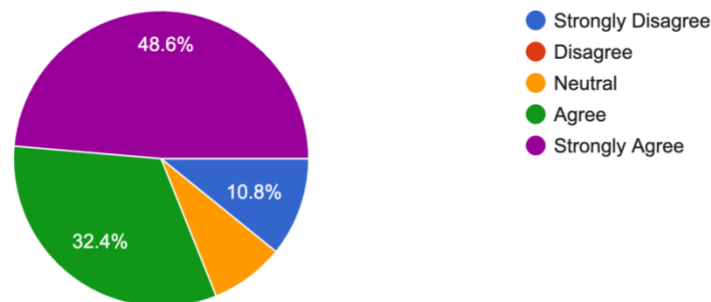

4. The DSE courses have introduced graduates to the various sub-fields within Sociology.

37 responses

5. The BA (Hons) Sociology program has introduced graduates to the issues in contemporary society.

37 responses

OBSERVATIONS:

The responses indicate that a substantial majority of students (approximately 70–90%) agree or strongly agree that the Programme Specific Outcomes (PSOs) have been successfully achieved. A smaller proportion of students have expressed a neutral response regarding the achievement of these outcomes.

Action To Be Taken Report:

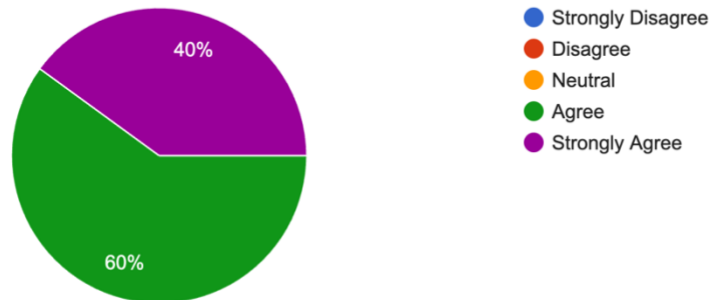

The survey indicates a high level of achievement of the Programme Specific Outcomes. However, continued and concerted efforts will be made by the faculty to further strengthen the achievement of these outcomes. Faculty members will further undertake appropriate pedagogical training and capacity-building initiatives for effectively implementing the new UGCF papers.

Program Exit Survey 2022-26

B.A. (H) Sociology IV Year

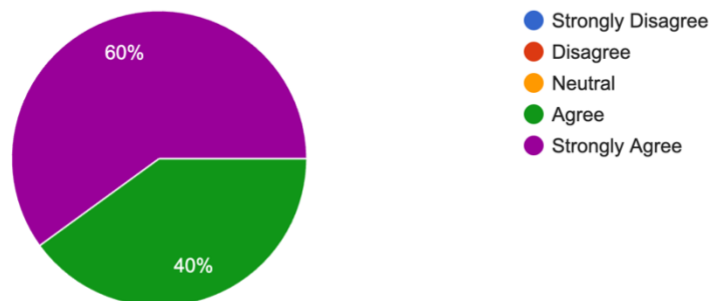

1. The BA (Hons) Sociology program has exposed graduates to multiple theoretical perspectives in Sociology.

5 responses

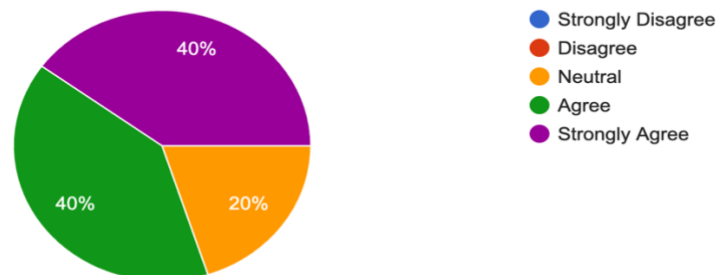

2. The BA (Hons) Sociology program has enabled the graduate to learn that knowledge is socially constructed.

5 responses

3. The BA (Hons) Sociology program has enabled the graduate to recognise the universal significance of social institutions.

5 responses

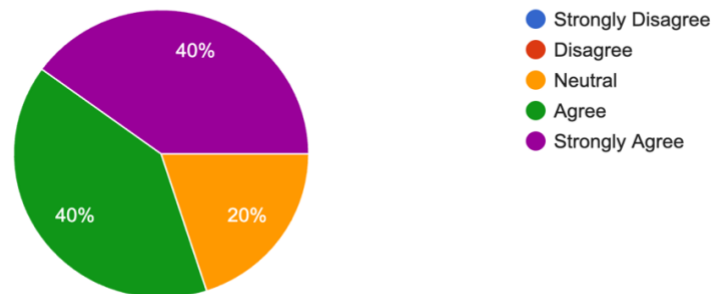

4. The DSE courses have introduced graduates to the various sub-fields within Sociology.

5 responses

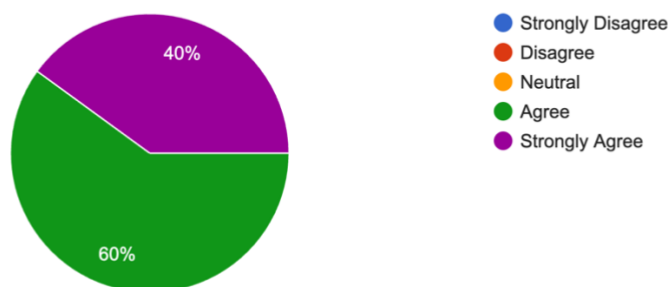

5. The BA (Hons) Sociology program has introduced graduates to the issues in contemporary society.

5 responses

6. The BA (Hons) Sociology program has exposed you to the methodology of conducting research and the ethics underlying it.

5 responses

OBSERVATIONS:

The responses indicate a high level of achievement of the Programme Specific Outcomes (PSOs), with 80–100% of students agreeing or strongly agreeing with the stated outcomes. In four of the six areas, all respondents have expressed a positive response. A small proportion of students (20%) have expressed a neutral response in relation to two of the outcomes.

Overall, the findings indicate that the Programme Specific Outcomes are being effectively achieved.

ACTION TO BE TAKEN:

The high level of positive responses indicates that the Programme Specific Outcomes are being effectively achieved. However, continued and concerted efforts will be made by the faculty to further strengthen the attainment of these outcomes. Greater emphasis will be placed on classroom discussions, application-based learning and pedagogical practices to address the neutral responses and ensure that all students are able to achieve the desired learning outcomes. Faculty members will also undertake appropriate pedagogical training and capacity-building initiatives for the effective implementation of the new UGCF papers.